Excelpoint Ranked Top 25 Global Distributors
by Electronic Engineering Times

Singapore – [22nd June 2009] - Mainboard-listed Excelpoint Technology Limited (“Excelpoint” or “the Group”), a total solutions provider of quality components, engineering designs and supply chain services to electronic manufacturing services providers, has been recognised as one of the Top 25 Global Distributors by Electronic Engineering Times (“EE Times”) for two consecutive years.

Mr Albert Phuay, Chairman and Group CEO of Excelpoint Technology Ltd, said: “We are truly honored by this recognition as EE Times’ ranking of Excelpoint validates our commitment to quality and outstanding service. The electronics component distribution market has moved into value-added service areas, at Excelpoint, we are committed to enhancing our capabilities in these areas by offering a diversified and an expanded portfolio of products and strengthening our expertise in R&D and supply chain management so as to help our customers to improve efficiency, manage costs and reduce their time to market.”

The EE Times’ annual ranking of the world's biggest distributors is conducted annually between March and April for publication online and in print. The listing ranks electronic components distributors by calendar year sales. EE Times serves the electronic engineering community worldwide with the latest industry and technology trends. Their network is well represented in the United States, Germany, France, India, China, Japan and Korea.
