Keeping our team and business partners safe

Dear Sir or Madam,

In the context of the ongoing coronavirus outbreak, we are keeping ourselves regularly informed on the situation and continue to keep our employees, our customers and their production lines safe.

The situation calls for great corporate responsibility at TRINAMIC Motion Control, being a key supplier of critical components used in medical equipment, lab automation, conference cameras, and warehouse automation.

We will continue to monitor advice given by relevant authorities and take all reasonable steps to ensure continuation of production lines and safeguarding of our employees and customers.

To this end, we will not make any business trips nor will we visit events. Instead, we increase our digital presence via webinars and offer more contact options for remote meetings to maintain service and support.

We appreciate your understanding of this ongoing situation and we are committed to resuming personal contact as quickly as possible. We will keep updating you on the situation and post any significant updates on our website.

Kind regards,

Michael Randt
